6. Information on the engagement of data processors:

For the performance of its activities, Millenáris engages the Data Processors listed in the present Notice. Data Processors make no independent decisions and may act solely pursuant to the contract concluded with Millenáris and to the instructions received. Millenáris supervises the activity of the Data Processors. A Data Processor is entitled to engage any other data processor only with the prior written consent of the Data Controller.

In addition, Data Controller engages the services of ZENIT Informatikai Ltd. (Kft.) (registered office: 1036 Budapest, Bécsi út 57-59. 1. fl. 10., company registration number: 01-09-338119, tax number: 24128337-2-41) in order to provide the runtime environment of the websites of Millenáris.

Data Controller also uses the services of the KBOSS.hu Ltd. (Kft.) (registered office: 1031 Budapest, Záhony utca 7. company registration number: 01-09-303201 tax number: 13421739-2-41) for the - szamlazz.hu program - the invoices in order to issue and send.

7. The rights of the data subject:

Right to request information (right of access):

Every data subject is entitled to request information from the Data Controller regarding whether their personal data is processed and regarding which data of theirs is processed by the Data Controller, on what legal basis, for what data processing purposes, from what source, for what period, and also to whom, when, based on which legal provision, and to which personal data of theirs the Data Controller granted access or to whom the Data Controller transferred the personal data of theirs, including, but not limited to, any recipient in any third country and/or any international organisation.

We would like to inform you that in order to comply with the statutory requirements of data security and to protect the identity of the data subject ('to whom the personal data is connected'), the procedure in connection with the exercising of the right to receive information, of the right of access and of inspection, and of the right to receive a copy of the data is subject to identification in order to establish whether the person wishing to exercise any right above and/or submitting any request to that effect and the data subject are identical.

In response to the request, information must be sent to the given address without delay, but not later than within 30 days.

Right to rectification:

Every data subject is entitled to request the modification of or the completion of any of their data. Measures upon such a request must be taken without delay, but not later than within 30 days, and information must be sent to the given address.

Right to erasure (right to be forgotten):

Every data subject is entitled to request the erasure of their data if

- a) their personal data is no longer necessary in relation to the purposes for which they were processed by the Data Controller;
- b) the data subject withdraws their consent on which the data processing is based and there is no other legal basis for the data processing;
- c) the data subject objects to the data processing and there are no other legitimate grounds for the data processing;
- d) their personal data was processed by the Data Controller unlawfully;
- e) their personal data has to be erased for compliance with a legal obligation to which the Data Controller is subject;
- f) the personal data has been collected in relation to the offering of information society services to children.

Upon the request of the data subject, the appropriate measure has to be taken without delay, but not later than within 30 days, and information must be sent to the given address.

Right to prohibit access to the data and right to the restriction of the processing of the data:

Every data subject is entitled to prohibit access to their data if

- a) the accuracy of the personal data is challenged by the data subject, in which case the prohibition of access to the data / the restriction of the processing of the data is for a period enabling the Data Controller to verify the accuracy of the personal data;
- b) the data processing is unlawful and the data subject opposes the erasure of the personal data and requests the restriction of their use instead;
- c) the Data Controller no longer needs the personal data for the purposes of the data processing, but they are required by the data subject for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims; or
- d) the data subject has objected to the data processing, in which case the restriction is pending the verification whether the legitimate grounds of the Data Controller override those of the data subject.

The prohibition of access to the data lasts for as long as the designated grounds make the storage of the data necessary. Upon the request, the appropriate measure has to be taken without delay, but not later than within 30 days, and information must be sent to the given address.

Right to object:

Any person may object, using the contact information provided, to data processing on the grounds of legitimate interests and to profiling. The Data Controller shall no longer process the personal data unless the Data Controller demonstrates compelling legitimate grounds for the data processing which override the interests, rights and freedoms of the data subject or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims. The objection must be assessed without delay, but within a period not exceeding 15 days from the submission of the objection, it must be decided whether the objection is well-founded, and information about the decision must be sent to the given address.

Right to data portability:

The data subject may request from the Data Controller to receive the personal data which concerns them and which they have provided to the Data Controller on the legal basis of the consent of the data subject in a structured, commonly used, and machine-readable format and is entitled to transmit such data to another data controller if the data processing is based on the consent of the data subject or on a contract and the data processing is carried out by automated means. In exercising their right to data portability, the data subject is entitled to have the personal data transmitted directly from one data controller to another, where technically feasible.

The Data Controller complies with the request of the data subject within a period not exceeding 30 days and informs the data subject of such compliance in a letter sent to the address provided by the data subject.

The consent may be withdrawn at any time, however, the withdrawal of the consent shall not affect the lawfulness of the data processing before the withdrawal. The erasure of the personal data by the Data Controller may be requested if the data concerned is no longer necessary for the performance of any public service task of MilLENÁRIS. Please communicate such a request of yours to us via the authorised colleague of the Data Controller, via the e-mail addresses millenaris.diszpecser@millenaris.hu or szellkapu.diszpecser@millenaris.hu and dpo@millenaris.hu, or in person at the registered office of MilLENÁRIS Nonprofit Private Limited Company for Science and Culture (MilLENÁRIS Tudományos Kulturális Nonprofit Korlátolt Felelősségű Társaság) (1024 Budapest, Kis Rókus u. 16-20.).

The data subject may file a complaint regarding the data processing directly with the Hungarian National Authority for Data Protection and Freedom of Information (Nemzeti Adatvédelmi és Információszabadság Hatóság; address: 1055 Budapest, Falk Miksa utca 9-11.; phone: +36-1-391-1410; e-mail: ugyfelszolgalat@naih.hu; website: www.naih.hu).

If the rights of the data subject are violated, then the data subject may file a petition with the court against the data recipient, the data controller. The court hears the case via a priority procedure. The data subject may file the petition at their discretion either with the regional court having jurisdiction based on the domicile of the data subject or with the regional court having jurisdiction based on the residence of the data subject.

The data controller informs the data subject without undue delay, but not later than within one month from the receipt of the request. If necessary, taking into consideration the complexity of the request and the number of requests, this deadline may be extended by an additional two months. The obligation to provide information may be fulfilled via the operation of such a safe online system by means of which the data subject may access the necessary information easily and quickly.

The present Data Protection and Data Processing Notice has been prepared in Hungarian and a version of it is available in English. If there is any discrepancy, then the Hungarian version prevails.
